

Weekend Services | Communion Guide

As part of our weekend gathering, we want to share in communion (the Lord's Supper)—an ordinance given to all believers by Jesus to remember his sacrifice for us and to symbolize the new covenant with the elements of Christ's broken body (symbolized by bread or crackers) and shed blood (symbolized by grape juice). (See Matthew 26:26–30; Mark 14:22–26; Luke 22:19–20; 1 Corinthians 11:23–29.)

To be clear, communion is not a means of salvation; it is a testament of a believer's faith in the atoning work of the cross. If you are a believer in Jesus Christ, we invite you to participate in remembering his sacrifice with us. If you do not consider Christ your Savior, we are so thankful you are joining us, and we ask that you kindly refrain from taking communion.

How to Participate in Communion

1. Before our weekend gatherings, purchase some grape juice and some bread or crackers. (Otherwise, you'll be raiding your cabinet to see what you have!)
2. Set out the elements before participating in a weekend worship service.
3. That's it! You'll get the rest of your instructions during the service itself.
